Stoked to have you on board

Kia ora [Client first name]

[A sentence or two just for them, e.g. Great to finally have you on board after our chat last week. Your reviews speak for themselves, and there's heaps of demand for quality builds

We're pretty picky about who we work with, so if we've said yes, it's because we genuinely reckon we can get you great results. We're really looking forward to this one.

Our job is simple: get quotes booked in with the right kind of work. Yours is to keep doing what you do best, and let us know how those quotes are landing so we can keep fine-tuning things.

Have a read through, and flick us a message if anything doesn't make sense.

Cheers,

Rocky and Max

WHAT WE'RE DOING FOR YOU

Here's what we're running for you

Meta ads

Facebook and Instagram ads in front of locals who need what you do, built from your real work.

CRM and lead tracking

Every lead in one place, the second it comes in, with automatic quote reminders.

Content creation

Photos and video of your work, made to run as ads.

10

OUR PROMISE

Our 10-quote guarantee

We're backing ourselves to get you 10 quotes booked. You'll see the count tick up in every report, so you always know exactly where we're at.

Your first few weeks

Here's exactly what happens from this week until your ads go live.

1

THIS WEEK

Welcome email and your CRM login

Your login is where you'll see every lead the moment it comes in.

2

[Day, date and time]

Onboarding call

We learn the business, agree what a great lead is, and connect your calendar.

3

ON THE CALL

Your CRM walkthrough

Where leads land, how to add notes, and moving leads through the stages.

4

AROUND [Rough date]

Your ads go live

Your ads start running and the first enquiries come through.

5

EVERY FORTNIGHT

Your catch-up and report

What we spent, how many leads came in, and what each one cost you.

YOUR BIT

What we need from you

Four things get us off to a flying start. Tick them off as you go.

Before and after job photos

Upload them to your document storage in the CRM. Real work beats stock photos every time.

A photo of you, and one of the team

People hire people, and faces in ads get noticeably more enquiries. Don't worry about the background or perfect photos, the team can work their magic here.

Update the CRM

The jobs you've quoted, the job value, and which stage they're sitting in. This helps us feed the Meta algorithm the right data, and tells us who to go after.

Close some deals

Booked quotes land straight in your calendar, with an automatic text to the customer before each one.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Enquiries first, then quotes, then jobs

Here's how the first few months usually play out.

WHEN	WHAT WE'RE DOING	WHAT YOU'LL LIKELY SEE
Week 1	Building your ads and landing pages, setting up your CRM	Your login, a walkthrough, and a first look at the ads before they go live
First month	Pulling top performing ads from our other clients and running these, to drive immediate quotes	Enquiries and quotes start coming in. If no job is signed yet, you'll still have a pipeline built up for month two
Months 2 to 3	Doubling down on what's working, cutting what isn't, tightening who sees your ads	Steadier enquiries and better quality leads as the targeting sharpens
Every fortnight	Your catch-up, and sending your report	What we spent, how many leads came in, and what each one cost you

THE HONEST BIT

What to expect, straight up

Paid leads aren't word of mouth.

Referrals will always be your best source. They're just unpredictable and hard to scale. Paid leads fill that gap, but they convert a bit lower, and that's normal.

Your feedback steers the ads.

Moving leads through the stages in the CRM tells us which ones were good, and we use that to sharpen who sees your ads.

Month one is the warm-up.

If your jobs take a while to land, you might not win one in the first month. That's normal. You'll still head into month two with a strong pipeline of leads and quotes already built, and that's where it starts paying off.

Speed wins jobs.

The quicker you get back to a lead, the more of them turn into quotes. A call within the hour makes a real difference.

Your go-to person

Questions, wins, a lead that seems off, or just want a yarn about how things are tracking? Flick your go-to person a text or give them a call, and you'll hear back the same day.
